ITEM 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On November 14, 2007, the Board of Directors of Eastman Kodak Company (the "Company"), upon the recommendation of its Corporate Responsibility and Governance Committee, elected Douglas R. Lebda and William G. Parrett to the Company's Board of Directors. The Board of Directors determined that Messrs. Lebda and Parrett are independent under the New York Stock Exchange Listing Standards and the standards set forth under the Board's Corporate Governance Guidelines.

With the addition of these two new independent directors, the size of the Board of Directors increased to eleven directors. Messrs. Lebda and Parrett will stand for re-election by a vote of the Company's shareholders at the Company's 2008 annual meeting of shareholders. Mr. Lebda will serve on the Executive Compensation and Development Committee and the Corporate Responsibility and Governance Committee. Mr. Parrett will serve on the Audit Committee and the Finance Committee. There was no arrangement or understanding between either of Mr. Lebda or Mr. Parrett and any other persons pursuant to which either Mr. Lebda or Mr. Parrett was elected as a director of the Company.

Mr. Lebda, 37, serves as President and COO of IAC/InterActiveCorp, and Mr. Parrett, 62, is the former Chief Executive Officer of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu. There are no related person transactions between the Company and Mr. Lebda, except that a wholly owned subsidiary of IAC/InterActiveCorp has paid approximately $10 million year to date to a reseller of Kodak products for Kodak products. There are also no related party transactions between the Company and Mr. Parrett, except that the Company has paid Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu approximately $7.1 million year to date for tax, actuarial, consulting and other non-audit advisory services.

For their services in 2007, Messrs. Lebda and Parrett will receive a pro-rated retainer of $20,000 under the terms of the Board's compensation program. One-half of this amount will be paid in the form of shares of the Company's common stock. As described further below, effective December 11, 2007, Messrs. Lebda and Parrett, along with all of the other non-employee directors, will annually receive $70,000 in the form of restricted shares of the Company's common stock that will vest on the first anniversary of the date granted, and $70,000 in stock options that will vest on the first anniversary of the date granted. Beginning January 1, 2008, Messrs. Lebda and Parrett, along with the other non-employee directors, will also annually receive $70,000 in the form of a cash retainer.

A copy of the Company's press release dated November 16, 2007, announcing the election of Messrs. Lebda and Parrett to the Board of Directors, is attached as Exhibit (99.1) to this Form 8-K and is incorporated by reference.

ITEM 8.01 Other Events.

On November 14, 2007, the Board of Directors of Eastman Kodak Company (the "Company"), upon the recommendation of the Corporate Responsibility and Governance Committee, approved revisions to the Board's compensation program. As a result of these revisions, non-employee directors will annually receive: $70,000 in the form of a cash retainer which the director may elect to receive in Company stock in lieu of cash, $70,000 in the form of restricted shares of the Company's common stock that will vest on the first anniversary of the date granted, and $70,000 in stock options that will vest on the first anniversary of the date granted. Each non-employee director is permitted to defer the receipt of the cash and restricted stock components of their annual retainer pursuant to the Company's Director Deferred Compensation Plan.

The Audit Committee Chair will now receive a chair retainer of $20,000 per year, in addition to the annual retainer as a non-employee director. The Chairs of the Board's other three committees will continue to receive a chair retainer of $10,000 per year for their services, in addition to their annual retainer as a non-employee director.

The Presiding Director will continue to receive a retainer of $100,000 per year for his or her service, in addition to the annual retainer as a non-employee director.

As part of the revisions, the Board eliminated all director benefits from the Board's compensation program. As a result, the following director benefits will no longer be provided upon expiration of their current coverage: life insurance, travel/accident insurance and personal umbrella liability insurance.

The change to the cash component of the Board's annual retainer is effective January 1, 2008. The changes to the two equity components to the Board's annual retainer are effective December 11, 2007.

Kodak Board Elects Two New Members to Board of Directors

IAC's Douglas Lebda, Deloitte's William Parrett Enhance Board Capabilities

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Nov. 16 - Eastman Kodak Company (NYSE:EK) said today that Douglas R. Lebda, the President and Chief Operating Officer of IAC/InterActiveCorp, and William G. Parrett, the former Chief Executive Officer of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu, were named to the company's board of directors, effective November 14, 2007.

Mr. Lebda, 37, became President and COO of IAC at the end of 2005. He joined the company in 2003 after IAC acquired LendingTree, which Mr. Lebda founded in 1996. During his nine-year tenure, he led the company through a successful IPO and five acquisitions, and LendingTree became the nation's leading online lending exchange, with more than $500 million in 2003 revenue. At IAC, Mr. Lebda oversees the operations of more than 60 brands and 20,000 employees, and has led the growth and integration of dozens of IAC start-ups and acquisitions. IAC is an interactive conglomerate that owns and operates more than 60 specialized and global brands, including HSN, Ticketmaster, Match.com, Ask.com, Citysearch, Evite, and more.

Mr. Parrett, 62, recently retired from Deloitte as Senior Partner after serving as CEO from 2003 until earlier this year. A 40-year veteran of Deloitte, Mr. Parrett co-founded the firm's Global Financial Services Industry practice and served as its first chairman. During his career at Deloitte, he served as advisory or leadership partner to many Fortune 500 companies.

"I am pleased to welcome such talented and exceptional individuals to our board as Doug Lebda and Bill Parrett," said Antonio M. Perez, Kodak's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "Each will bring a depth of experience and expertise to the board's deliberations for the benefit of our customers and shareholders.

"In LendingTree, Doug built what has become one of the world's great online brands, and he has continued to nurture new brands and businesses at IAC," Perez said. "He brings to Kodak an intimate knowledge of digital markets and a fresh perspective on the generational and demographic forces shaping the Internet. As Kodak continues its historic transformation, we will benefit from Doug's business acumen and his passion for harnessing the Web to revolutionize commerce and drive growth.

"Bill Parrett's record of achievement is extraordinary," Perez said. "During Bill's tenure, Deloitte's revenue grew by 53%, reaching $23.0 billion in 2007, and worldwide employment grew to 150,000 people in 140 countries. Beyond his success in growing Deloitte, Bill also has become a global advocate for a broader view of corporate governance and business ethics. His seasoned approach to business issues, as well as his extensive understanding of financial matters, makes him an outstanding choice to serve on Kodak's board."

Mr. Lebda received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Bucknell University in 1992, and began his professional career as an auditor and consultant for PricewaterhouseCoopers. He is currently a member of the Bucknell University Alumni Association Board of Directors and the Board of Trustees for the Darden School Foundation. A recognized entrepreneur and innovator, Mr. Lebda has received numerous honors, including the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year award, the Council for Entrepreneurial Development's Trailblazer award, and the Inman Innovator of the Year award.

Mr. Parrett joined Deloitte upon graduation from New York's St. Francis College in 1967, and served in a series of roles of increasing responsibility. He became Managing Partner of Deloitte & Touche USA in 1999, and was named CEO four years later. Mr. Parrett is chairman of the United Way of America, an executive member of the International Chamber of Commerce, and serves as chairman of the United States Council for International Business.

These elections bring the Kodak board to 11 members, 10 of whom are independent directors, with Antonio Perez serving as the only non-independent director.
